

2017 MLCCC Summer SAT PREP

This course is tailored to help students pinpoint and focus on their own areas of development; to guide the students so that they can minimize prep time, ensure completeness of testing strategies that work for them, and to develop areas that are unfamiliar to them. The emphasis is on metacognition.

Class sizes will be limited to be more impactful.

Background on the Teacher:

Mr. Tom Le currently teaches SAT Prep at the MLCCC Weekend School out of GVHS. He has received positive feedback continuously from his students and their parents, building the School’s SAT Prep class from 6 students in the prior school year to 15 students currently. After just 17 hours of class time, some students’ scores improved by 100 points. Mr. Le has successfully taught his own progeny SAT Prep at GVHS who is only taking MLCCC SAT Prep before sitting for the SAT next school year. He will teach both Verbal and Math in an organic way that uses the vernacular that is common with the test, but that extends well beyond it to be impactful in all aspects of the students’ lives.
